We Manufacture Mold Cables & Custom Wire Harnesses

AceTronic manufactures mold power and thermocouple standard & custom cables. We maintain an inventory of all cable components to ensure optimum delivery times.

AceTronic utilizes parts from high quality industry manufacturers such as:

Harting, EPIC, Stäubli, Pyle, & Nanaboshi

AceTronic also manufactures custom wire assemblies and harnesses built to suit your specific application.

AceTronic cables are assembled according to strict quality guidelines to ensure the highest caliber of workmanship. Quality control is further enhanced by:

ISO 17025 and A2LA accreditations.

Increase Productivity & Improve Quality

Stäubli Connector Plate

The Stäubli connector plate was designed to significantly reduce human error while also decreasing mold change times. As a result, an environment is created that improves the life cycle of the mold and increases productivity.

This continues our unwavering commitment to build quality products that consistently stand up to the conditions of our customer's fast paced & rugged manufacturing environments.

Life is about choices...
